Hello Everyone,

The summer is coming, the summer is coming! - and what an exciting season the Arts Council has lined up!

To re-cap first, the TABLESCAPES fun'raiser was a huge success in April and I understand plans are brewing for an even more successful event this coming April 2016.

The Member Potluck & Purple Elephant Art Sale was also a success at the William Lawrence Camp this past May in Tufonboro. Everybody who went was able take in the magnificent views from the deck of the new Centennial Lodge and got great deals on pre-loved art supplies.

The ART WALKs are off to a wonderful start and we can look forward to more fun on Durgin Green with live music over the summer months. I do, however, have to ask you very talented artists not to be shy and keep your "lights" under your "bushels" - we are always looking for more Members' art to hang at the ART WALKs and the exhibits around town.

I cannot wait to see hoards of artists during "PAINT Wolfeboro" which will now be held in August (Wednesday 19th, with a rain date of Thursday 20th). Watch your mailbox for an application to participate.

The Priscilla Hodges Scholarship Workshop arrangements are being finalized and this should be another exciting art experience with pastel artist Robert Carsten in September. Be sure to sign up by downloading the forms on our website: www.wolfeboroarts.org.

Hoping for a long and creative summer - until next time, be safe but most of all be kind to your art supplies!

The work of RICH HUDSON

These are acrylic on paper and part of a series I'm working on called "Laughageddon" for the June 26th GWAC member display at the ART WALK. When finished it will include 20+ portraits of provocative figures, many of whom we're unaccustomed to be seen laughing. We can only imagine what made them laugh. In some cases it might be disconcerting to learn what caused the humor response, as in the case of North Korea's supreme leader Kim Jong-un, Bin Laden or Ayatollah Khomeini. To see more work by Rich Hudson, visit: www.richhudson.net

GWAC MEMBERS' SHOWS

Jottings from the Easel....

Hope you will drop by to view the exhibits at the MVSB and Huggins Hospital throughout the summer and fall. Liese Gauthier has a solo exhibit of her miniature acrylic paintings. She has become very popular in our area and sells her paintings very reasonably. This exhibit runs through the end of June. The viewing area is located across from the solarium on the first floor.

There is a "Members" exhibit on view by the front entrance to the MVSB, this exhibit also runs through the end of June. One of the MVSB employees stated "some folks just come to the bank to see our artwork!"

All artists are encouraged to hang their work to sell at these two venues. If you price them reasonably, they will sell. So come on, get brave!

On July 1st Robin Cornwell will have an exhibit of her fiber art at the MVSB and Bob Simmons will have a solo of his photography at Huggins Hospital. Please drop by to support your fellow artists.

Also there is another venue to sell your work. The ARTWALK held the last Friday of each month gives you the opportunity to show and sell your art pieces. Just give a call to Jeannette D'Onofrio or email her: j@virgodesignstudio.com by the 15th of the month to let her know you want to participate.

Have a great summer!

from Debbie Hopkins

"PAINT Wolfeboro", a day of plein aire painting, will be held on Wednesday, August 19th with rain date of Thursday, August 20th. By moving this event from September to August, the committee hopes that it will become as popular a summer event as "Artists In the Park". The times will remain the same with registration 8 to 9:30am. at the Community Bandstand in Cate Park, ending sales by 3:00pm.

Artists participating may bring two previously finished framed NH works for sale. They will be on display in the park and works in progress on artist's easels may also be sold during the painting event. Coffee and muffins will be available to artists during registration and there will be helpers ready to spell the artists during the day.

Adding to the occasion will be two events for children. From 11:00am - 2:00pm children will have the opportunity to do watercolor painting with brushes and simple paint sets provided. From 11:30am - 1:00pm the Mouse Lady will draw mouse characters, depicting requests from children, and place them on key chains. Both activities ask for a donation of $5.00.

From 2 to 3pm there will be refreshments and entertainment in the band stand to celebrate our day of outdoor painting. For further questions, call co-chairs Madelyn Albee (603-569-1701) or Debbie Hopkins (603-560-4994). Sign up to participate on line: www.wolfeboroarts.org.

Hokusai

April 5, 2015 – August 9, 2015 Ann and Graham Gund Gallery
(Gallery LG31)

Katsushika Hokusai (1760–1849) was the first Japanese artist to be internationally recognized, and he continues to inspire artists around the world. As the home of the largest and finest collection of Japanese art outside Japan—including the greatest variety of Hokusai works in any museum—the MFA is uniquely positioned to offer a comprehensive exhibition of this remarkable artist. Drawing from extensive holdings of paintings, woodblock prints, and illustrated printed books, the Museum will showcase an array of works from Hokusai's seven-decade career, including lesser-known pieces depicting whimsical instructions on how to draw, dynamic paintings on paper lanterns, and elaborate cut-out dioramas. Also displayed are some of the most famous images in Japanese art, including Under the Wave Off Kanagawa (Great Wave) (about 1830–31)—from the legendary series Thirty-six Views of Mount Fuji—and the brilliantly colored multi-panel screen painting Phoenix (1835). Spanning Hokusai's work from his 20s through his 80s, the exhibition will explore common themes through sections dedicated to topics such as landscapes, nature, fantasy, and the “Floating World” of urban culture (including depictions of the Kabuki theater and the Yoshiwara pleasure district). Works that depict Japanese historical and literary motifs will be featured along with “perspective prints” with exaggerated vanishing points, often used in toy peep shows. An extremely delicate silk square of a mythological Chinese lion, likely used as a gift wrapper (fukusa), will also be included, in a rare public display of the fragile work. An illustrated publication will accompany the exhibition.

From Birds to Beasts: Audubon's Last Great Adventure

May 23, 2015 — Aug. 30, 2015

During the Industrial Revolution, as the United States grew westward, there was great public fascination with America's unique and varied wildlife. John James Audubon shared that enthusiasm and sought to take advantage of it by portraying these animals in drawings and etchings, which he included in limited edition books. While best known for his precise studies of birds, this exhibition will feature his interest in mammals, most of which were drawn to appear in their natural settings. Easing Audubon's struggle to accurately recreate these creatures, the animals were often made available to him stuffed and mounted in displays. Audubon's artworks became immensely popular in England and across the U.S., and remain some of the finest studies of American wildlife in existence. This exhibition is the result of collaboration between the Currier and New Hampshire Audubon, which celebrated its 100th anniversary in 2014. NH Audubon is making their limited edition (1845-1848) Audubon portfolio available for display for the first time in the state.
