Presidents' Note

Dear Members,

It's with mixed emotions that we write this note as it marks the end of our two years as co-presidents. While we will miss the chance to lead the group, we are glad to resume our regular seats at the table. We're delighted to welcome Barbara Gray as our new president and Jerome Holden as our new vice president. The organization is in very good hands.

It's true that the group -- for a variety of reasons -- said farewell to our involvement in two major events, First Night and Artists in the Park, but we are proud of the fact that GWAC has moved more toward supporting our members and promoting their work. We heard loud and clear that those were priorities for members, and we're glad that the group could deliver on that request.

Polly Cain, our exhibit coordinator, continues to find more opportunities for our members to showcase their talents. And Suzette Winchester, through her management of shows at the Wolfeboro Public Library -- including the GWAC all-member show in November -- highlight the arts year-round.

The new ART WALK, under the leadership of Jeannette D'Onofrio and Jerome Holden, not only promotes the arts in the larger Wolfeboro community but it, too, allows our members to "show off" a bit in town. Despite inclement weather and being early in the season, our first two events were well attended. Several gallery owners said they had visitors who had never been in their shops before. And while they may not have purchased something on the night of ART WALK, the owners were confident that they were attracting new customers. Be sure to visit the galleries on the last Friday of every month, now through December 19th. You don't want to miss the fun!

Coming up in September is our 5th annual PAINT Wolfeboro event. You'll notice that we've changed the name from Paint the Town, but it will still be the same popular day of plein air painting, under the guidance of Madelyn Albee and Debbie Hopkins.

And we have two wonderful educational opportunities sponsored by the Priscilla Hodges Scholarship Fund to look forward to over the coming months. Lise Richardson and Ligia D'Appolito and their committee have lined up a watercolor workshop and a seminar focused on helping artists better represent their work in photographs -- something that's needed in this day of everything on the web.

If you didn't see your name explicitly called out in this note, that doesn't mean we don't appreciate all that you do during the year. We couldn't be the organization we are without each and every person -- from those who mount art shows to those who demonstrate their talents at our meetings.

Although we're a small organization, we're intrepid -- and we deliver for our members. During this current membership drive, please encourage your fellow artists or friends who are arts supporters to renew or start a new membership. Let's keep the Wolfeboro arts community vibrant!

ANNOUNCING....

Priscilla Hodges Scholarship Workshop

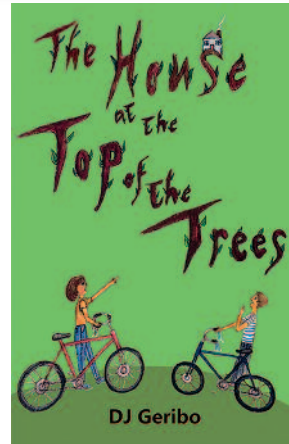

from Nancy Piper...

The Committee is pleased to announce its sponsorship of the two afternoon workshops (1 - 4:30pm) held Aug. 13th & 14th at the Wolfeboro Public Library's meeting room. The workshops will offer personalized instruction for artists and craftspeople on How to Photograph Their Artwork.

Artists must bring their own camera, camera manuals and up to 3 pieces of their work. The workshop Wed. Aug. 13th will focus on 2-dimensional (paintings, drawings, etc.) class size is limited to 10 persons. The workshop Thurs. Aug. 14th will focus on 3-dimensional (sculpture, jewelry, pottery, etc.) and be limited to 6 persons.

The workshops will be taught by Charley Freiberg, professional commercial photographer. His work has been on the covers of over 60 magazines, aided over 200 businesses with his pictures, taught classes for NH League of Craftsmen and for the AVA Gallery in Lebanon, NH. See more of his work: charleyfreibergphotography.com.

These workshops are being underwritten by GWAC's Priscilla Hodges Scholarship Fund and there is no charge to attend. Class size is extremely limited, so it is very important to pre-register with Nancy Piper 569-2762 or nancypiper6@gmail.com. A waiting list will also be maintained. Contact Nancy for any questions.

BBD Publishing is now LIVE!

DJ Geribo is pleased to announce that her first novel, The House at the Top of the Trees, is available for purchase from her publisher and website, BBD Publishing - www.BBDPublishing.com

The House at the top of the Trees is a perfect book for middle grade children, from 8-12 years old, but young and old alike will enjoy it. DJ and her husband, Internet Architect Jim Fontaine, have created this exciting new website featuring the books and writings of DJ. They invite you to visit their new website and Like Us on Facebook!

DJ will be at the Country Bookseller in Wolfeboro for book signings on June 28.

GWAC Exhibits, ART WALK, PAINT Wolfeboro

Notes from the Exhibit Coordinator: Polly Cain

All artists who are members of GWAC are invited to exhibit their artwork at the Meredith Village Savings Bank or at Huggins Hospital here in Wolfeboro. Please contact Polly Cain at 569-1190 or pollywerks@aol.com . Our next display will be hung on Monday June 30th. and run through August 29th. Meet at the MVSB at 10am and Huggins at 11am. Here is a chance for you to promote and sell your artwork. I look forward to having you join us.

The GWAC artist group is also scheduled to have a "Nature- themed" juried exhibit at the Libby Museum in August of 2015. This has been scheduled early so that all artists can start thinking about what they want to paint related to this wonderful little gem of a museum nestled in Wolfeboro. The museum exhibits a collection of natural history and wildlife from around the world. I encourage you to visit to obtain ideas. Also take a look at the exhibit by the Cornwell family that is taking place though the month of June.

The Kingswood Art Center is having a ballet production of Snow White on July 12th at 7 pm. All artists have been invited to exhibit their work at this time. If you would like to show your work, drop it off at the entrance by 6 pm that evening, For more info contact Deb Hopkins at 569-4994 muddywheel@metrocast.net or Polly Cain 569-1190 pollywerks@aol.com

Calling All Artists for PAINT Wolfeboro Event

from Andrea Dudley

Artists are invited to join PAINT Wolfeboro, a day of plein air painting in downtown Wolfeboro on Saturday, September 6. Participants in this fifth annual event (formerly know as Paint the Town) sponsored by the Governor Wentworth Arts Council, will enjoy a day of outdoor painting in this scenic town on the shores of Lake Winnepesaukee. They can set up downtown, along the lakeshore, or on one of Wolfeboro's nearby walking trails.

Artist registration begins at 9:30am at the Community Bandstand in Cate Park, with painting under way until 2pm. Visitors can watch works of art being created and can purchase pieces either during the day or at the sale that runs from 2pm to 3pm. in Cate Park.

Painters pay a $15 registration fee and agree to give 40% of their sales to the Governor Wentworth Arts Council. Artists set the prices for their work and any unsold paintings remain the property of the artist. The Arts Council uses the monies raised to support arts programming in local schools and libraries.

Those registered receive a PAINT Wolfeboro T-shirt, coffee and pastries in the morning, and water throughout the day. In addition, runners will be available to provide work-site coverage for artist breaks.

For more information and a registration form, visit wolfeboroarts.org, email the group at info@wolfeboroarts.org, or call one of the co-chairs, Debbie Hopkins (603-569-4994) or Madelyn Albee (603-569-1701).

A self-guided tour of the arts the last Fridays of each month from April to December 19th, 5pm-8pm called ART WALK. ART WALK is chaired by GWAC members Jeannette D'Onofrio and Jerome Holden and assisted by many GWAC volunteers.

This self-guided tour of galleries and arts locations stretches from one end of Main Street (Rt.28) to the other and includes the following: The Studio Gallery, The Kalled Gallery, The Art Place, Artisans Corner, Sandy Martin's Gallery, Azure Rising, the Connelly Gallery as well as the Northeastern Ballet Studio.

Each ART WALK location will open their doors for the extended hours of 5pm to 8pm on the following dates: June 27, July 25, Aug. 29, Sept. 26, Oct. 31, Nov. 28 and Dec. 19. The galleries may feature new artists exhibits, sales, nibbles or live musical entertainment. It is up to the discretion of the gallery owner to present their space for the ART WALK in any way they decide - it will vary and change each month. Keep your eye on the local papers, the GWAC Facebook page and website www.wolfeboroarts.org for details.

NOTE: GWAC members, take full advantage of displaying and selling your professionally presented artwork at GWAC display location on the dates listed above. Jerome Holden will be in charge of setting up and taking down the artwork each of the Friday evenings. Contact Jeannette 569-0078 to submit a piece for display/sale by the 15th of the month. GWAC members need to fill out the Sales Agreement and participation forms at the display. Artwork must be framed, mounted, titled and priced for sale.

It is our hope that the result will yield walking traffic to downtown Wolfeboro experiencing the cultural aspects of the town.

For more details and questions about this ART WALK, please contact either of the co-chairs; Jeannette D'Onofrio 569-0078 or j@virgodesignstudio.com, or Jerome Holden 569-5335, signguy@jcsigns.com.

Jamie Wyeth

July 16, 2014 - Dec. 28, 2014

Lois and Michael Torf Gallery
(Gallery 184)

The first comprehensive retrospective of artist Jamie Wyeth (born 1946) will examine his imaginative approach to realism over the course of six decades, from his earliest childhood drawings through various recurring themes inspired by the people, places, and objects that populate his world. A member of a family of artists—including his grandfather, Newell Convers “N.C.” Wyeth (1882–1945); his father, Andrew Wyeth (1917–2009); and his aunt, Carolyn Wyeth (1909–1994)—Jamie Wyeth has followed a unique path, training with his aunt Carolyn after leaving school at age 11, studying anatomy in a New York City morgue and working in Andy Warhol’s New York studio, The Factory. “Jamie Wyeth” will include approximately 100 paintings, works on paper, illustrations, and assemblages created by the artist, many in a range of “combined mediums,” his preferred term for the distinctive technique he brings to his compositions. The exhibition will feature Wyeth’s portraits of subjects such as his wife, Phyllis Wyeth; John F. Kennedy (commissioned by family members after his death); Rudolf Nureyev; and Andy Warhol; which will be shown alongside a selection of preparatory drawings and studies that offer a window into the artist’s immersive approach to portraiture. The exhibition will also feature landscapes of the worlds he inhabits in the Brandywine River Valley (between Pennsylvania and Delaware) and the Midcoast of Maine—especially the islands of Tenants Harbor and Monhegan—still lifes of pumpkins (a fascination from his youth) and the many animals and birds that are part of his family and surroundings. Organized by the MFA and accompanied by an extensively illustrated catalogue, the exhibition will travel to three additional venues.

Romare Bearden: A Black Odyssey

March 29, 2014 — Aug. 17, 2014

Romare Bearden’s works of art reflect universal experiences filtered through an African-American lens. In this exhibition, Bearden’s colorful collages and watercolors tell Homer’s ancient tale, The Odyssey. While the story of Odysseus has been told for more than 3,000 years, in Bearden’s vision, the brave Greek hero and all of the characters are black. Although the imagery is rooted in the African-American experience, the familiarity of these tales and the beauty of the images will remind viewers that each of us is on a personal odyssey.

A second phase of the exhibition opened on May 24. It focuses on Bearden’s surprising connection to (and use of) the oldest object in the Currier’s collection, an 800-year old painting by the Follower of Meliore. Works by Bearden’s contemporaries, Charles Alston and Jacob Lawrence will also be on view, along with the newly acquired Train Whistle Blues, a watercolor that Bearden created around 1979.

Related Content

Not only was Romare Bearden a great artist, he also composed more than 20 jazz songs. The most famous was “Sea Breeze,” recorded in the 1950s by Dizzy Gillespie and Billy Eckstine.
